OUTSOURCED LEGAL DEPARTMENT

Principle

Designed for companies that do not have the means or size to internalize a legal department and/or bear the cost or to manage an increase in internal legal department activity, the outsourcing service for the legal function is aimed both at French companies and at French subsidiaries of foreign groups.

This solution is more and more appreciated by companies because it brings undeniable advantages in terms of efficiency, speed, flexibility and cost.

Functions

The Outsourced Legal Department covers all the functions that can be expected from an internal legal department :

Your Advantages

- ✦ Professional secrecy protection
- ✦ No increase in your staff
- ✦ Controlled costs
- ✦ Knowledge of the business practices
- ✦ Management of national and international legal matters
- ✦ Flexibility in its implementation

Business Law

Contracts

Contractual audits, negotiation and drafting of commercial contracts (general conditions of sale and purchase, distribution contracts, sales contracts, service contracts); Breach of negotiations; Litigation of contractual breach (breach of contract clauses, breach of contract, termination of contract)

Distribution

Assistance at all stages of the construction of your network on the territory and internationally, compliance of your network with competition law, drafting/negotiation of your distribution contracts (distributor-supplier contracts, selective-exclusive distribution contracts, commercial cooperation, franchising, lease-management...) and your contracts with your intermediaries (commercial agents, commissionaires, etc...)

e-commerce

Drafting of your GTC/GCU for your e-commerce sites, platforms and/or applications, securing your relationships with consumers.

Competition

Assistance in the implementation and monitoring of your projects in compliance with the complex rules of competition law.

Intellectual Property Rights

In an economy opened to international competition, and which is highly competitive, fluctuating and dematerialized, it is more critical than ever for a company to protect, exploit and develop its intangible assets.

A recognized player in intellectual property law and new technologies, and a member of GRAPI, PEGASE Avocat provides comprehensive and personalized services in various fields of intellectual property law (patents, trademarks, designs, copyright, and new technologies).

- Drafting and negotiation of your R&D contracts, consortia, transfers, licenses, technology and/or know-how transfers...
- Development of policies to enhance the value of your intellectual property rights with your partners.
- Assistance, through its national and international network, in all your intellectual property disputes, in particular with regard to infringement actions, actions for the invalidity of intellectual property rights, actions for the claim of ownership, and appeals to the INPI.

Life Sciences

- We advise YOU on the rules applicable to medicinal products: placing on the market, advertising.
- We support YOU to implement the legislation relating to the transparency of the links and rules against gifts.
- We support YOU to set up distribution networks: which contract to choose for the marketing of your products, Co-marketing, medical examination services?
- We ensure YOU of the drafting of your T&Cs for your websites (institutional site, marketing site, online sales site).
- We assist YOU in the follow-up of defective product liability files.

Compliance

Compliance, which once seemed reserved for multinational companies exposed to the application of foreign standards, now concerns all companies, whatever their size or sector of activity.

PEGASE Avocat helps you to comply with the high requirements of modern governance and compliance and to take advantage of these opportunities for the benefit of your company and thus transform this constraint into a real competitive advantage.

Our action is based on both the development and implementation of :

Internal processes for a better coordination of internal business practices,

A contract management software to better share information within your company,

A compliance program tailored to your company that will enable you to unite your teams around common values (codes of conduct, internal charters, control procedures and alerts adapted to identified risks and training for both managers and operational staff).

TRAINING

Our firm attaches great importance to training to ensure that you have a clear and effective understanding of the rules of law that apply to your business.

All our training sessions are designed to help you better understand the legal issues you encounter during the design and implementation of your projects.

Face-to-face

Our training face-to-face sessions are an opportunity for interactive exchanges between participants and the training lawyer.
